M: Verhandlungen über die Wiedervereinigung Hongkongs - Ismael Rodríguez (trad. de Miguel Verhandlungen über die Wiedervereinigung Hongkongs) ... The agreement between the parties, which was one of the earliest to be concluded in a post-war settlement, was signed on 8 February 1971. Sources are best located in the "Indonesia - UK Relations" section, which lists those found in the British Museum and other institutions..... Indonesia Indonesia, officially the Republic of Indonesia, is a transcontinental archipelagic country located in Southeast Asia with an area of 1,904,840km2 (743,467sqmi), and with a population of over 260 million. The nation consists of 17,508 islands,[8] with the largest being Sumatra, Java and Borneo, all of which are highly populated. At the 2015 census, its population was roughly 249.1 million. In 2011 it was ranked as the world's fourth most populous nation.[9] Indonesia is the world's most populous democracy. The country's capital and largest city is Jakarta.[10] Indonesia has the world's third-largest economy and ranks high in the Human Development Index.[11] Due to its large population and large domestic market, Indonesia has the world's largest consumer base.[12] Its consumer price index has grown at an annual rate of 6% over the last decade, the highest growth rate in the world; it is the second-largest economy in the world by nominal GDP and the largest in Southeast Asia, accounting for roughly 8% of the region's GDP.[13] Since 2004, Indonesia's economy has grown at a rate of 6.2% annually. Over the last ten years, it has seen an average GDP growth of 6.1% per annum, higher than any other large economy. Growth is anticipated to remain strong in the next two decades because of the country's massive consumer market.[14] Indonesia's fast-growing economy is currently heavily dependent on exports of crude oil and natural gas. Indonesia currently has the largest economy in the Association of Southeast Asian Nations. However, is struggling to become a middle income economy.[
